DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-8 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Senior (US 2002/0029171).

As per claims 1-8, Senior teaches a commodity selling system for allowing a user to purchase commodities through a network (page 5, claim 1, lines 1-3), said system comprising: a user terminals each used by a user for connection to the network (fig. 1, Internet Access, Home/Office); and a seller server (fig. 1, Web Server) for storing information on each purchase candidate commodity at the time when said each purchase candidate commodity is selected from said commodities appearing on said web page (page 5, claim 1, paragraph F), and for displaying said information on said user terminal in response to a request from said user terminal (page 5, claim 1, paragraphs A and B), a commodity selling system wherein said seller server includes means, when displaying said information on said user terminal in response to a request from said user terminal (page 5, claim 1, paragraphs A and B), for also displaying information which have been generated in relation to said purchase candidate commodity from the time of the selection of said purchase candidate commodity to now on said user terminal together with said information (fig. 8, commodity catalog on the display), Senior further teaches a seller server wherein said display control mean also displays information which have been generated in relation to said purchase candidate commodity from the time of the selection of said purchase candidate commodity to now on said user terminal together with said information (page 5, claim 1, paragraphs A and B, fig. 11, History of purchase).

Conclusion

4. The prior arts made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- Egashira et al (US 2002/0046134) teach a method and system for commodity sales wherein the wishes of purchasers and sellers of particular items are matched using a computer database.
- Teveler et al (US 2001/0034663) teach a system and method for providing a buyer with a discount on the purchase of commodities, such as goods, services, or capital, by tying the original transaction to the long term purchase of goods or services from one or more commodity providers.
- Kishi (US 2002/0143651) teaches a method, program and apparatus for collecting purchase information about any kind of commodity using network
